PLATFORM EXPRESSES HOPE IN COUNTRY'S FUTURE PROSPERITY

Safe Passage Through Recent Financial Crisis Pointed to as Evidence of Sound Basis Upon Which Commercial, Industrial and Agricultural Interests Are Founded.

CHICAGO, June 15.—The platform as it now stands is as follows:

Once more the Republican party in national convention assembled, submits its cause to the people. This great historic organization that destroyed slavery, preserved the union, restored credit, expanded the industries, nationalized the railroads, and developed the country and gave to the nation her post of honor in the councils of the world, now meets the new problems of government with the same courage and capacity with which it solved the old.

In this, the greatest era of American achievement, the Republican party reached its highest service under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt. His administration is an epoch in American history. In no other period since national sovereignty was run under Washington for preserved under Lincoln has there been such mighty progress in the ideas of government which make for justice, equality and fair dealing among men. The highest aspirations of the American people have been met. Their most exalted dreams have come to represent not political sovereignty alone, but the best aims and noblest purposes of all his countrymen. American manhood and womanhood have been lifted to a nobler plane of duty and obligation. Confidence and courage in public station and highest standards of right and wrong in private life have become the cardinal principles of political faith; capital and labor have been brought into closer relations of confidence and independence in the abuse of wealth, the tyranny of power and all the evils of privilege and favoritism have been put to scorn by the simple, manly virtues of justice and fair play.

Roosevelt's Accomplishments.

The great accomplishments of President Roosevelt have been first and foremost a brave and impartial enforcement of the law, the eradication of illegal trusts and monopolies, the exposure and punishment of evil-doers in the public service, the effective regulation of the rates and service of the great transportation lines, the complete overthrow of preference, rebates and discriminations; the arbitration of labor disputes, the amelioration of the condition of wage workers everywhere, the conservation of the natural resources of the country, the forward step in the improvement of the inland waterways and always the earnest support and defense of every wholesome safeguard which has made more secure the guarantees of life, liberty and prosperity. These are the achievements that will make for the future, and Roosevelt's place in history.

But more than in the past, the things he has done will be an inspiration to those who have yet greater things to do. We declare our unflinching adherence to the policies thus inaugurated and pledge their continuance under the Republican administration in the government.

Richest Nation on Earth.

Under the guidance of Republican principles the American people have become the richest in this world. Our wealth today exceeds that of England and all her colonies, and that of France and Germany combined.

When the Republican party was born the total wealth of the country was $10,000,000,000. It has leaped to $110,000,000,000 in a generation, while Great Britain has gathered but $50,000,000,000 in 50 years.

The United States now owns one-fourth of the world's wealth and makes one-third of all manufactured products. In the great necessities of civilization, such as coal, the motive power of all activity, iron, the chief basis of all industries, cotton, the staple foundation of all fabrics; wheat, corn and all the agricultural products that feed all mankind, American supremacy is undisputed.

And her great natural wealth has been scarcely touched. We have vast domains of thirty million square miles, literally bursting with latent treasure, still waiting the magic of capital and industry to be converted to the practical uses of mankind; a country rich in soil and climate in the unharmed energy of its rivers and in all the varied products.

Confidence in Prosperity of Future.

With gratitude for God's bounty, with pride in the splendid productivity of the past and with confidence in the prosperity of the future, the Republican party declares for the principle that in the development and enjoyment of wealth so great and blessings so benign there shall be equal opportunity for all. Nothing so clearly demonstrates that sound basis upon which our commercial, industrial and agricultural interests are founded and the necessity of promoting their continued welfare through the operation of Republican policies as the recent safe passage of the American people through a financial disturbance, which if appearing in the midst of Democratic rule or the menace of it, might have equalled the familiar Democratic panics of the past. We congratulate the people upon this renewed evidence of American supremacy and built with confidence the signs now manifest of a complete restoration of business prosperity in all lines of trade, commerce and manufacturing.

Since the election of William McKinley in 1896 the people of this country have felt the wisdom of entrusting to the Republican party, through its control and direction of national legislation, the many wise and progressive measures adopted by recent sessions of Congress have demonstrated the patriotic leadership of Republican leadership in the legislative department to keep step in the forward march toward better government.

Only the obstruction and filibustering of a Democratic minority in the last house of Congress prevented the enactment of a number of measures of great public benefit, the consideration of which can only be entrusted to another Republican majority. But many wholesome and progressive laws were enacted and we especially commend the passage of the emergency currency bill, the bill appointing of the national monetary commission, the employers and government liability law, the measure for the great efficiency of the army and navy, the widows pension bill, the model child-labor law for the District of Columbia, designed for emulation by the states, the new statutes for the safety of railroad engineering and many acts concerning the public welfare.

Revision of Tariff.

The Republican party declares unequivocally for a revision of the tariff by a special session of Congress immediately following the inauguration of the next president and exclaims that steps already taken to this end in the work assigned to the appropriate committees of the two houses which are now investigating the operation and effect of existing schedules.

In all tariff legislation the true principle of protection is best maintained by the imposition of such duties as will equal the difference between the cost of production at home and abroad, together with a reasonable profit to American industries; and the benefits that follow are best secured by the establishment of maximum and minimum rates to be administered by the president, under limitations fixed in the law, the maximum to be available to meet decisions by foreign countries against American goods, entering their markets and the minimum to treat the normal measure of protection.

Between the United States and the Philippines we have in a free interchange of products with such limitations as to sugar and tobacco as will avoid injury to domestic interests.

We approve the emergency measures adopted by the government during the recent financial disturbance and especially commend the passage by the last session of Congress of the temporary emergency act, designed to protect the country from a repetition of such stringency only until there can be established a permanent currency system that will avoid all emergencies.

Exchange of Products.

The Republican party is committed to the development of such permanent system, extending to our greater needs and in line in all respects with the most progressive nations of the world and the appointment of a monetary commission by the present Congress, which will impartially investigate all possible methods, insures the early realization of this purpose.

The present currency laws have fully justified their adoption by an expanding growth in population, increasing the demand for the movement of crops in the west and south and entailing periodic changes in monetary conditions, disclose the need of a more elastic currency and adaptation to a system. Such a system must meet the requirements of agriculturists, manufacturers, merchants and business men generally, automatic in operation, maintaining the functions in the interest rates and above all it must be in harmony with the Republican doctrine, which insists that every dollar shall be based upon, redeemable in, and as good as gold.

Banking and Currency Laws.

In line with the purpose here declared to secure by every wise means greater safety and stability in the banking and currency system we favor the establishment of postal savings banks for the purpose of encouraging savings and the measure now pending in Congress and set for vote on December 1st, next.

The Republican party passed the Sherman anti-trust law over Democratic opposition and enforced it after Democratic reelection.

It has been a wholesome instrument for good in the hands of wise and fearless administration. But experience has shown that its effectiveness can be strengthened and its real object better obtained by such amendments as will give to the federal government greater supervision and control over and secure greater efficiency in the management of that class of interstate corporations having power and opportunity to effect monopolies and at the exclusion of smaller enterprises and the oppression of citizens, associations, business men, farmers and wage earners as result in a positive benefit to the public.

Railroad Laws.

We approve the enactment of the railroad rate law and the vigorous enforcement by the present administration of the statutes against rebates and decisions as the result of which the advantages formerly possessed by the large shippers over the small shippers, have substantially disappeared. In this connection we commend the appropriation of $350,000 by the present Congress in order to enable the interstate commerce commission thoroughly to investigate and to give publicity to the accounts of interstate commerce law should be further amended so as to give railroads the right to make and publish traffic agreements subject to the approval of the commission, but maintaining always the principle of competition between naturally competing lines and avoiding the common control of such lines by any means whatsoever, and especially by the enactment of such legislation as will prevent by federal restriction the future use of stocks and bonds by interstate carriers.

The enactment in constitutional form by the present session of Congress of the employers liability law, the passage and enforcement of the water appliance safety law, as well as the additional protection secured for engineers and firemen, the reduction in the hours of labor for men and railroad telegraphers, the successful exercise of the powers of mediation and arbitration between interstate carriers and their employees and the law making a training in the policy of compensation for injured employees of the government are among the most commendable accomplishments of the present administration. But there is further work in this direction to be done and the Republican party pledges its devotion to every cause that makes for safety and the betterment of conditions among those whose labor contributes so much to the progress and welfare of the country.

Policy of Protection.

The same is a policy which has induced the Republican party to maintain protection to American labor in the construction of a public work in the interest of the employees who shall be preferred claim for wages under the bankruptcy laws to adopt an adequate child labor statute for the District of Columbia, to direct an investigation into the conditions of work of the women and children and later the passage of the law to regulate and to guard and enforce the law, establishing the imperative of contract labor, will be pursued in every legitimate direction within federal authority to lighten the burdens and increase the opportunity for happiness and advancement of all who toil.

The Republican party recognizes the special needs of wage workers, generally for their well-being means the well-being of all. But we are not content with all other labor legislation of good effect, we are determined to secure the well-being of every American citizen, and we are determined to secure the well-being of every American citizen.

country rests peculiarly upon the prosperity of agriculture. The Republican party during the 12 years has accomplished extraordinary work in bringing the resources of the national government to the aid of the farmer.

Agriculture.

Not only in advancing agriculture itself but in throwing the conveniences of rural life in order to attract farmers and their daughters toward rather than away from the farm have the energies of the administration been engaged. Free rural mail delivery was established over earnest Democratic opposition; it now reaches millions of our citizens and we favor its extension until every community in the land receives the full benefits of the postal service. We recognize the social and economic advantage of good country roads, maintaining more and more largely at public expense and less and less at the expense of the abutting owners. In this work, we commend the growing factors of state aid and believe that national assistance can be appropriately rendered.

We declare for such amendments of the statutes of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the use of the writ of injunctions as will on the one hand prevent the summary issue of such orders without proper instruction and on the other will preserve undiminished the power of the courts to enforce their process, to the end that justice may be done at all times and to all parties.

The Republican party has been for more than 50 years the consistent friend of the American negro. It gave him freedom and citizenship hope. It wrote into the organic law of the land the declaration that provided for his civil and political rights and it believes today that his noteworthy progress in intelligence, industry and good citizenship has earned the respect and encouragement of the nation. We demand equal justice for all men without regard to race or color. We approve the efforts of President Roosevelt and the Republican majority in Congress over a solid Democratic opposition, to secure equal accommodations on railroads and other public carriers for all citizens, whether white or black.

Negro Protection.

We declare once more and without reservation for the enforcement in spirit and letter of all those amendments to the constitution which were designed for the protection and advancement of the negro and we condemn all devices like the so-called "grandfather clauses" that provide for their exclusion from the franchise on basis of color alone and un-American and repugnant to the supreme law of the land.

We reaffirm former declarations that the civil service laws enacted extended and enforced by the Republican party shall continue to be maintained and obeyed.

We endorse the movement inaugurated by the president for the cooperative conservation of natural resources; we favor the preservation of the White Mountain and Appalachian forests; we approve all measures to prevent the waste of timber and commend the work now going on for the reclamation of arid lands. No obligation of the future is more insistent and none will result in greater blessings to posterity. In line with this splendid undertaking is the further duty, equally imperative, to enter upon a systematic improvement upon a large and comprehensive plan just to all portions of the country, of the harbors, harbors and Great Lakes, whose nature adaptability to the increasing traffic of the land is one of the greatest gifts of a benign Providence.

Increase of Navy.

The sixtieth Congress passed many commendable acts, increasing the efficiency of the army and navy, making the military establishment an integral part of the national establishment, authorizing the maneuvers of the army and militia, fortifying new naval bases and completing the construction of coaling stations, instituting a female nurse corps for naval hospitals and ships and adding two new battleships, ten torpedo boat destroyers, three steam colliers and eight submarines to the strength of the navy. Although at peace with the world and whose nature adaptability to the increasing traffic of the land is one of the greatest gifts of a benign Providence, we nevertheless declare our unflinching devotion to a policy that will keep this republic ready at all times to defend her territorial domains, protect her citizens at home and abroad and assure her an appropriate part in promoting permanent tranquility among the nations.

The conspicuous contributions of American statesmanship to the great cause of international peace so signally advanced in The Hague conference are an occasion for just pride and gratification.

At the last session of the Senate of the United States, if Hague conventions were ratified, existing the rights of neutrals, laws of war and restriction of submarine mines, limiting of force for the collection of contractual debts, governing the opening of hostilities, extending the application of Geneva principles and in many ways lessening the evils of war and promoting the peaceful settlement of international controversies. At the same session 12 arbitration conventions with great nations were confirmed and extended, binding and ratifying the principles of supreme importance were ratified.

Merchant Marine.

We favor such achievements and the subject of duty a nation can perform and proclaim the obligation of further strengthening the bond of friendship and good will with all the nations of the world. We adhere to the Republican doctrine of encouragement to American shipping and urge such legislation as will revive the merchant marine prestige of the country, so essential to national defense, the enlargement of foreign and the industrial prosperity of our own people.

We endorse the movement designed to ensure the organization of all existing national public health agencies into a single national health department and favor such legislation as will effect this purpose.

Another Republican policy which must be ever maintained is that of generous provision for those who have fought the country's battles and for the widows and orphans of those who have fallen. We commend the increase in the widows pension made by the last Congress and declare for a liberal administration of all pension laws to the end that the people's gratitude may grow deeper as the memory of heroic sacrifice grows more sacred with the passing years.

The American government in Republican hands has freed Cuba, given peace and protection to Porto Rico and the Philippines under our flag and begun the construction of the Panama canal. The present conditions in Cuba vindicate the wisdom of maintaining between that republic and this imperishable bonds of mutual interest and the hope is now expressed that the Cuban people will soon again be ready to assume complete sovereignty over their lands.

In Porto Rico the government of the United States is meeting with loyal and patriotic support, order and prosperity prevail and the well-being of the people is being in every respect promoted and is deserved.

REPRESENTATION

Others maintained that the proposition was fair.

Delegate Dawson strongly urged the resolution, insisting that if the south wanted an incentive to build up its organization, the resolutions afford it, because the larger the number of votes cast for Republican electors the greater would be the Republican membership in the convention. In the explanation of how the south will be affected by the resolution, Representative Burke said that, taking into account the delegates-at-large, South Carolina would have a vote for every 600 votes cast, whereas Pennsylvania, Colorado and many other states would have but one vote for every 10,000 votes.

Substitute Resolution.

While the committee was in session today Representative Herbert Parsons of New York was outside with a substitute resolution which he thought should be adopted. Representative Burke took a copy of it in with him to be offered in the event that his own resolution was voted down.

The Parsons resolution follows:

"Hereafter the representation shall consist of four delegates from each state, two delegates from each of the territories, two delegates from the District of Columbia, two delegates from Alaska, Porto Rico and the Philippines, and from each congressional district one delegate from every 10,000 votes and the majority fraction thereof, or cast for the Republican party's candidates for national electors at the last preceding presidential election. Provided, however, that no congressional district shall be without at least one delegate, and that in states where all members of Congress are not elected from separate districts there shall not be elected a greater number of delegates than would be the case if all the members of Congress were elected from such separate districts. For each delegate elected an alternate delegate shall be chosen to serve in case of the absence of his principal."

The committee, with the exception of rules 1 and 12, adopted the rules of the last national convention. The rules reserved for further discussion tomorrow have reference to the number of representatives and the manner of procedure in the election of delegations to the national convention.

This latter proposition was placed in the hands of a subcommittee which will report tomorrow.

GAVE UP A FINE INCOME.

An act of philanthropy rarely paralleled has won for Mrs. William Wheeler Smith of New York the sincere esteem of the people of the metropolis. Not long before his recent death her husband, who was an eminent architect, consulted with her regarding the disposition of his fortune of $5,000,000. The couple had no children, Mr. Smith had no near relatives, and so Mrs. Smith would have been made the mistress of the wealth had she so wished. But being a woman of philanthropic bent and simple tastes, she relinquished her claim to an annual income of over $200,000, and announced that she would be content with only $2,000 a year. This sum would seem like riches to the average person, but in accepting so much less than she might have received, Mrs. Smith gave a fine exhibition of the virtue of self-denial.

REPRESENTATION IN CONVENTIONS.

THE dissatisfaction of "the allies" with the southern situation has led to a possible move which may mean something to the future of the Republican party. Mr. Burke of Pennsylvania has avowed his intention of making a fight for a new basis of representation in the national convention. He would have each state entitled to a number of delegates commensurate with the votes cast at the last election for the Republican electoral candidates, besides the four delegates-at-large to which it is entitled under the present rule.

A similar suggestion was made by Senator Quay in 1900, but was withdrawn without coming to a vote. The trouble was then, and it is now, that the move for a change comes from a defeated candidate, and the injustice of allowing to the southern states a totally disproportionate number of delegates is always felt by those who don't secure those delegates, while the candidate who does secure them is reasonably well satisfied with the outcome. Consequently nothing is doing. The northern states continue to cast from ten to fourteen thousand votes for each delegate they have, while the southern states mostly cast from a hundred and fifty to five hundred for each delegate they send. It is a ridiculous state of affairs, and is bound to cause trouble, and there is no good reason that we can see why the mode of representation should not be changed. The plan of basing the number of delegates on number of votes cast for candidates at the previous election is in force in the states generally—we always choose our delegates to state conventions and county conventions on that basis; and the same plan would work well in the national field, and should be applied there.

We hardly think it possible that Mr. Burke will succeed in getting his resolution adopted; but we are glad the subject has been brought forward. It ought to come before every Republican convention until it is settled right. It ought to be settled as a matter of principle, and not because one candidate or another happens to have secured the bulk of the southern votes. Some day we believe it will be settled; but until then we shall have to witness ashamed the quadrennial scramble for votes in the convention that represent no votes at all in the electoral college and very few at the polls.

IS IT THE END?

LET US hope that the release of Caleb Powers and James Howard by the Governor of Kentucky marks the end of an old feud and the passing of a political era in that state. It has been one of the strangest passages in the history of the country, and the actions of the persons concerned have at times seemed altogether inexplicable.

It is not necessary, nor would it be profitable, to go back beyond the murder of Governor Goebel, further than to say that his actions had raised up against him a feeling of hostility so intense that the shooting was hardly a complete surprise. He was one of the kind of politicians whose motto is "thorough," and when he got a chance at a political enemy, he believed in killing him, cremating the remains and then burying the ashes. He had arranged to put an end to all danger of any exercise of power by the Republican party in Kentucky, and he had apparently come pretty close to the accomplishment of his object.

When public feeling was in such a condition, it was natural that the shooting of Goebel should be followed by a vindictive attempt to "get" everybody who had been even remotely concerned in it. Goebel's brothers had the usual blood-frenzied spirit of their state, and many of the partisans on both sides felt much the same way. Governor Taylor had to flee the state and seek refuge in Indiana, and has never yet dared to go back. Henry Yountsey was tried and found guilty, and is now, we believe, in prison. Caleb Powers and James Howard were arrested on suspicion. Powers has been found guilty three times, but three times has been saved by the Supreme Court, which found such irregularities in the trials as completely to invalidate them.

For years it seemed as if the vindictive spirit which demanded the killing of every man accused of complicity with Goebel's murder would never cease its activity. Such a spirit as was shown against Powers is difficult for a citizen of another commonwealth to comprehend. It was a spirit which demanded that he be slain, regardless of what the courts might do. Of late, however, the intensity of it seems to have abated, though we should not be at all surprised if Powers were to be shot from ambush any day. But Governor Taylor has examined the evidence and come to the conclusion—arrived at by honest people years ago—that Powers is not guilty. It has taken him a good while to arrive at this conclusion, but he has done it at last.

Kentucky is now about the closest state politically in the Union. Political feeling is perhaps stronger there than in other states which have a large majority one way or the other; but let us hope that political feeling may never again lead to another assassination, nor to any further persecutions such as followed the Goebel murder.

not remember ever to have come across one of those mangled phrases. Wherefore we incline to look with suspicion on the platform which is alleged to have at the bottom, "O. K. T. R." In the very first paragraph of the railroad plank occurs the following: "In this connection we commend the appropriation of $500,000 by the present Congress in order to enable the Interstate Commerce commission to thoroughly investigate and give publicity to the accounts of interstate roads." This monstrosity surely could not have got past the President's revision alive and in this form. Mr. Wade Ellis may be all right as an Attorney-General, but certainly he is not a rhetorician.

It was little less than a crime to send out as news the guess of some irresponsible person that the cruiser Colorado was probably lost with all on board, and the Pennsylvania was perhaps in the same sad plight. Indeed, it was asserted positively, that the cruiser was aground on Dungeness spit, and with no prospect of getting off. Now it appears that the captain of the Colorado, seeing that his course might be dangerous by reason of the fog, anchored near the Dungeness spit, and the vessel never touched it at all. Meantime needless alarm has filled hundreds of breasts, and anguish has been endured by hundreds of relatives of the men aboard the cruiser. News gatherers are too much encouraged in these days to send things that are sensational, without waiting to verify them.

Editorial comment in the midst of a convention like that at Chicago is useless. The acts speak for themselves at the time. Their effect can be considered later. Every hour brings something new, and at this writing all is still uncertainty regarding the vice presidency, while there is still a prospect of a warm disagreement over the platform. The news dispatches will give the facts as they develop, and we must wait a day or two to get the bearings of them.

Tomorrow morning you can read all about it. In the meantime, we can hurrah for Taft. His nomination means a great deal more than is yet generally realized.

FROM OTHER PENS
SOME CAUSE FOR JOY.
From the Cleveland Leader.
Are you glad the tailor doesn't charge for a coat of tan?

OTHER ROADS LIKE IT.
From the New York American.
The Erie road's policy of refusing to employ men over thirty-five years is probably due to the fact that such men would die of old age before reaching the end of their first trip.

HAVE PITY ON THE TEACHER.
From the New York Herald.
If boys would only learn algebra, history and the rest as easily as they learn batting averages and the standing of the baseball clubs in line for the Herald trophies, how much easier the lot of the school teacher would be.

JUSTICE HARLAN, GOLFER.
From the New York World.
Old Tom Morris of St. Andrew's is dead with his golfing honors thick upon him. But in Justice Harlan at seventy-five years is probably due to the fact that such men would die of old age before reaching the end of their first trip.

URBANITIES HAYSEAS.
From the Baltimore American.
Every urbanite is, when sifted down to irreducible first principles, a hayseed. The dweller within brick walls, with an outlook upon endless rows of brick walls, is contented enough to hibernate in artificial environments, but when the leaves burst their petals and nature resumes the raiment of green, his soul begins to cry for the open fields, the flowing waters, the freedom of the wilds. For the sake of brevity it is said "his soul," but it will be understood that "her soul" also joins in the insistent back-to-nature clamor.

NO MORE PRESIDING ELDERS.
From the Springfield (Mass.) Republican.
To many a life-long Methodist brother the action of the general conference of his church in doing away with the title of "presiding elder" and substituting therefor "district superintendent" will seem nothing short of sacrilege. Would it have been possible for the long line of pious men who have borne the old designation to seem so good and true and remote from worldliness under the title of "district superintendent," a thing that smacks of material things and has no warrant for reverence? So the old order changeth whether the old-timers like it or not.

DYNAMITE.
From the New York Tribune.
Dynamite has become a problem which must be grappled with and mastered, unless this country intends to forego even the appearance of orderliness and peace. Using the term as a convenient abbreviation for all high explosives we must pronounce dynamite a monstrous evil, and the use of a halter much stronger and more secure than any that has yet been fitted to it in the United States. If the memory of man were not as fleeting as time itself, this assertion would be a platitude whose proof nobody would trouble to demand. Every day sees some outrage committed with dynamite somewhere in this country.

KEEP "DIXIE" AS IT WAS.
From the New York World.
Women of the Confederate Choir of America have fitted new words to "Dixie," beginning:
Oh, Dixie land is the land of glory,
The land of glorified song and story.

In thinking that the old words—vinegar, seed and sandy bottom—had the rest—were not good enough the ladies are mistaken. What set "Dixie" going, what made Lincoln call it the best song of the war, what makes New York's theater and restaurant audiences thrill with it though they may have never been further south than Atlantic City, is its vigor. The words have age. By the memory of the age that have sung them they should be protected from change. Only so can the song retain its history and its significance.

PSYCHOLOGY OF PROOFREADING.
From the Ohio State Journal.
To the uninitiated things a forlorn and haggard topic, but to those within the vale it enters the cardiac recesses; but it ought to be attractive, if one concerns himself with the psychology and pays no attention to the proofreading, since the operations of the mind are not limited to any one task, but extend to all. True observation involves three operations of the mind, and these are directed to the form, the meaning and the relations of the thing observed. There is no task that requires a combination of the activities in lively use at the moment of proofreading. One may write in a hurry, but one cannot read in a hurry.

love, but at most, any of these only require two of the intellectual activities, but proofreading requires them all.

A GIANT WOODPILE.
From the New York World.
The census bureau reports that 3,362,662 cords of wood were used in the United States last year in the manufacture of paper pulp. On the site of Madison Square garden this would make a woodpile more than a mile high.

So long as this means a draft upon a limited and un replenished supply it is most regrettable. But the country could without alarm see twice or three as great a yearly use of pulp if wood were treated like other crops; to be raised, used and replanted. Nor is the growing period hopelessly long, now that fast-growing soft woods are coming into greater use.

For the present the free importation of paper and pulp, for the future a general policy of reforestation, will enable America to "use" without worry what foreign wood it needs.

THE MAN AND HIS JOB

By Herbert J. Hapgood

Keep tabs on your men! It makes no difference what sort of business you are engaged in, it is always feasible to formulate a systematic record of what each employee is doing, has done, or ought to have done. Discipline is an important factor in applying this work. One of the best known magazine publishers in the country has recently been forced to the wall because of his insistence on certain stringent rules not suited for his purpose. He lost the best available editor for his needs by requiring him to ring up on the time clock, together with the "help," on arriving and departing from the office.

The employee's record card should be made the basis for a complete set of statistical records enabling the employer to keep tabs on his men. One of the hardest things to keep track of is clerical work. The record card which I am using in my own office with considerable success, serves the purpose, at least basically, of any employer anxious to know the capacity of his stenographic and corresponding departments. There are two forms, a daily and a weekly stenographic record; also a daily postage record. The former contains the eleven different classes of correspondence into which our mail bag is divided, and twelve classes of clerical office work. No work is done by stenographers that does not fall under some one of these twenty-three heads. I tabulate the postage for all outgoing correspondence so that the weekly report will serve as a postage acquisition card, also. After calculating the average time required to do each of the twenty-three jobs enumerated, it was not difficult for me to establish a standard of a fixed number of points for each job. This done, I found myself in possession of an accurate measure for all work done by the departments, and each individual. By compiling these records for some months it was possible for me to determine upon daily and weekly averages. We now judge a stenographer's ability by these averages, with a side glance as to the quality of her work as well. Those who show a tendency to exceed the average and approach maximum capacity are in line for an increase in salary; those who fall below the average repeatedly, will be dismissed unless their work is of incomparable merit in itself. The daily postage report kept by the mail clerk must agree within a few cents or I know that some one is stealing stamps or some stenographer is reporting work not done.

Today's Horoscope

Wednesday, June 17, 1908.
Now may the hand that seeks beneath the soil find hidden virtues to reward its toil.

Saturn is in benefic aspect with the moon on this 18th day; Venus is in parallel declination with Neptune. Mercury is in conjunction with Mars. The moon is opposed to Jupiter.

A day of varying and contradictory aspects and omens. Jupiter's position opposing the moon is evil for the great and the proud. Mars threatens quarrel, fire and disturbing deeds.

Avoid the heated argument and the ill-natured jest this day.

Those in employment will do well to look before they leap in these twenty-four hours.

Toward the afternoon there dawns a good influence in favor of those who ask boons or concessions.

An excellent day to deal with all who have concerned with the land or soil and the things thereof: Deal with landlords, farmers, quartermen, miners, and produce or cattle merchants.

Buy or sell real estate, build houses, sink wells, lay foundations.

Good counsel will come in this period from aged persons.

The woman with her birthdate today will have an opportunity to make a great change in her manner of living and working during the twelvemonth.

The man with this birthdate will have a puzzling and exciting year in business and must look to it closely.

The girl born today will probably marry well. She will be inclined to carelessness in money matters.

The boy born this day will succeed, but only by dint of great energy, and will need to be well fitted for the struggle.

TRIUMPH OF THE JEIN.
From the Jackson (Miss.) Clarion-Ledger.
The effort of the city council to have the hackmen remain out of the way, and off the more frequented sections of the streets around the depot, have fallen powerfully flat.

TOOTHACHE ANECDOTE.
From the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.
A poor chap blew into Salina a few days ago with a bad case of toothache. He went to a dentist, who blew out part of his jawbone with dynamite, and saved most of his face off, and took all the money he had, and told him to go and sin no more.

Being homeless and friendless, the unfortunate man crawled into a box car, like a wounded animal, to suffer alone. There he was found in a dying condition. His jaw and face were in an awful condition, and he had been without food or drink for three days. He was taken to a hospital, and may recover. Such a story should be passed in the ears of those people who are prone to complain of every little three-cornered misfortune that they encounter.

WANTS ALL TO SHARE.
Little Falls Correspondence of Utica (N. Y.) Observer.
Henry MacIntyre, pastor of the South Side Un-denominational church, was going to talk on ecstas-yesterday, but there was a heavy rain about the time that people would have started for service and on that account he reserved his utterances on that subject until next Sunday. MILITARY BURIAL FOR KELLEY ST. JOHN IN BUSINESS AGAIN

Spanish-American War Veterans to Honor Dead Comrade Funeral Tomorrow Morning.

The last earthly tribute to the late John Kelley, veteran of the Civil and Spanish-American wars, will be paid at Evergreen cemetery tomorrow morning, when the Spanish-American war survivors of this city will give the body military burial. Funeral services preceding the interment will be held from St. Mary's Catholic church at 9 o'clock. Kelley, who was 63 years old, died at the residence of his cousins, the Messrs. Mary E. Clara M. and Ellen L. Collins, 24 North Sierra Madre street, Monday noon. The only other survivor is a brother in Washington, D. C. himself a survivor of the Spanish-American war.

John Kelley served as a private in company B, Nineteenth United States Infantry, during the Civil war, and during the war with Spain was a private in company B, First battalion of engineers. He remained in the army continuously until his third and final honorable discharge August 16, 1907. During the Spanish-American war the five Kelley brothers enlisted. Three were killed in battle. John was unharmed, but his only surviving brother received a wound from which he never wholly recovered.

He and Associates Have Purchased Business of the Gilmore Plumbing Company.

After a year's retirement from the plumbing business, in which he was engaged in this city for about 30 years, J. C. St. John and associates have purchased the business of the Gilmore Plumbing company, 11 East Bijou street, and will conduct it under the name of the J. C. St. John Plumbing and Heating company. The company took possession last Thursday. The officers and directors are, as follows: J. C. St. John, president; A. T. Benbow, vice president; Charles Pearson, secretary-treasurer; John Gilbert and James R. Seaton. The organization was incorporated in Denver yesterday with a capitalization of $10,000, divided into 50 shares of $200 each.

Mr. St. John began business in Colorado Springs about 23 years ago with F. E. Bumstead, later joining with his brothers, W. B. and E. F. St. John, under the first name of St. John Bros. He then entered partnership with C. H. Barnes, the firm continuing for seven years prior to St. John's sale of his interest to E. W. Stephens. J. C. St. John was for eight years a member of the City Council, serving as president during a part of that time, and for four years was chairman of the water committee.

TWO TRIAL ORDERS VACATED

Markshoffel and Major Cases May Be Called Up at Any Time.

Trial orders in two cases of more than passing interest were vacated in the district court by Judge James Owen yesterday, on motion of the district attorney, and may be called up again at any time. One is that of Albert W. Markshoffel, charged with involuntary manslaughter, and the other is the case of Joseph O. Major, accused of passing a bogus check.

Markshoffel was indicted by the grand jury and arrested on a direct information filed by the district attorney several months ago, as a result of an automobile accident last September in which an automobile built for three passengers, but carrying nine men, was driven at excessive speed by Markshoffel and ran into a ditch instantly killing three men and seriously injuring several others.

Major, who is said to be a wealthy mining man of this city, is accused of passing a worthless check on the National hotel in Colorado City. He afterward tried to settle the case by paying the amount, but the complaint, it is understood, refused to drop the prosecution. Both Markshoffel and Major are out on bond.

MEAT WON'T GO HIGHER

Hemenway Says There Is No Prospect of Rise Here.

Housekeepers in Denver and the northern part of the state are alarmed over the prospect of increase in retail prices of beef. According to statistics made by the dealers, there has been an increase of from 2 1/2 cents to 2 3/4 cents per pound on all cuts of beef within a week. It is further stated that the prices of mutton and lamb, which were expected to drop during the summer season, will remain the same.

Th. E. Hemenway, president of the Merchants' association of this city and a dealer in meats of all kinds, said last night that the prices in Colorado Springs would not be advanced in the near future. He said that while there had been a steady increase in the price of meat during the last year, there was no reason to believe that there would be a further increase.

Mr. and Mrs. White returned yesterday from a four weeks' visit in eastern cities.

Mr. White will be succeeded in the Midland city office by Ernest A. Whalls, who has already been in the office for several weeks. Mr. Whalls comes from Niagara Falls, N. Y., where he was assistant city ticket agent for the New York Central lines.

FAVOR MR. ATKINSON'S PLAN

City Council Will Consider Viaduct Improvements at Special Meeting Tonight.

As a result of the aldermen's inspection of the Huertano street viaduct, and their conference with owners of abutting property, the City Council will probably adopt the suggestion of Lynn S. Atkinson to widen the viaduct to the entire width of the street, 100 feet, provided funds can be secured for the additional improvement. The aldermen, almost without exception, favor the plan, but no appropriation can be secured until the end of the year and unless special bonds are issued, it is doubtful if the work can be done. The improvements recently planned are provided for by a fund of $15,000, appropriated at the beginning of the year.

The chief reason for the extension of the viaduct the entire width of the street is that this can be done at an additional cost of about $10,000, which will be increased many times should the viaduct be extended to a width of 60 feet, as contemplated, and later widened again when the city's traffic demands it.

The matter will be threshed out at an adjourned meeting of the Council tonight.

MISS EVANS ENGAGED AGAIN

Turns Down Bogus Denver Count for Handsome Montreal Scotchman.

Romance has again entered the life of Miss Ivy Maud Eaves, formerly a Colorado Springs girl who now makes her home at 1201 East Seventh avenue, Denver. Some months ago there was a stir in social circles of the capital city when it was learned that she was engaged to be married to a Hungarian count. It was later discovered that the alleged count of nobility was in reality of humble origin and distinguished for nothing else than separating cigar dealers from their coin by means of samples that were the property of a Denver cigar manufacturing concern. The father of Miss Eaves made the discovery and forthwith the proposed marriage was called off.

Now the lucky suitor for the hand of the charming maid is Percy Lansdowne McNeill, a big, handsome Scotchman whose home is in Montreal, Canada. The pair met at the former home of Miss Eaves in Canada, where she has been visiting for several months. Upon her return to Denver yesterday, Miss Eaves admitted the engagement but did not announce the date of the forthcoming marriage.

Presented by H. E. Sloan of Prescott, a member of the committee, and Perry Ellis of Chicago, was heard in favor of a declaration against interstate shipments of prison-made goods. Then came the public discussion of the injunction question. H. R. Fuller, who said he represented the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Firemen and Trainmen—28,000 men—presented what is regarded as the most radical of all injunction propositions in evidence. It read:

"We pledge ourselves to such legislation as will guarantee to workmen those rights necessary to their industrial protection, including the right to strike and to induce or persuade others to do so and to such legislation as will prevent the issuance of restraining orders and injunctions without hearing; and guaranteeing trial by jury to persons accused of contempt of court, if such alleged contempt be not committed in the presence of the court or so near thereto as to obstruct the administration of justice."

In support of this plank and in explanation of the position taken by his organizations, Mr. Fuller dwelt at some length on several phases of the question. He made the point that a law on the subject would be no more a reflection on the judiciary than a new law on any other subject and asserted that for 79 years from 1793 the statutes contained a provision that no ex parte injunction should be issued. This he said, was changed during a codification of the statutes.

Wants Right to Strike.

Mr. Fuller made the statement that an injunction was in effect a law. Considering it from this standpoint, he dwelt on the manner in which it was formulated and often invoked by a judge without consideration and enforced with great hardship to labor. He wanted the right of labor to strike and to persuade others to strike, upheld by law.

Questioned by Frank R. Kellogg, Mr. Fuller said he not only wanted no injunction to issue without preliminary notice, but he wanted a guarantee of a jury trial on the facts brought in issue by injunction proceedings. In this connection, he made a point that personal rights would thus be conserved and such rights ought to be held above property rights of any character which might be involved.

An answer to Mr. Fuller was made by J. A. Emery of New York, general counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers. Mr. Emery pointed out first that the legislators of the party in the House had determined that as lawmakers they would not attempt to invade the judicial realm by changing a practice which had been developed during the past 70 years for the protection of both property rights and mixed personal and property rights. The remedy, if in any single instance injustice had been done, was in the impeachment of the judge, he said. It would be as potent to sue the judge, or to bring a law action against the storm or the earthquake as to be compelled to rely for redress in some labor trouble on the law instead of the equity side of the court.

Color Is Injected.

Gilchrist Stewart of New York, a negro, next claimed the attention of the committee to inject a "little color" into the deliberations, as he expressed it. Stewart wanted two planks adopted for the benefit of the black men. One was a declaration which would answer the question "Shall the whites be privileged under the right partner, be permitted to nullify the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments to the constitution of the United States?" The other demanded the restoration of the "innocent" discharged soldiers of the Twenty-fifth regiment of infantry—the Brownsville affair.

A protest against tariff revision that would fix such a high minimum rate as to afford no inducement for the formation of trade agreements was made by Judge Samuel Cowan, of Fort Worth, Tex., in behalf of the American Livestock association. A revision of that character, he said, would force such a condition that the maximum tariff could be used only for the purpose of retaliation and thus destroy the real purpose of a maximum and minimum tariff.

Congressman Seroen E. Payne of New York, presented a protest from a number of New York business men against curbing the independence of the courts in the issuance of injunctions.

Postal Savings Opposed.

The last speaker before the committee was John L. Hamilton, of Illinois, president of the American Bankers' association, who opposed a plank favoring the establishment of postal savings banks. Mr. Hamilton told the committee that the bankers of the country believed that the introduction of such banks would be poor policy; that they would take from 40 to 60 per cent of the deposits now in state savings banks and similar institutions and would tend to cause still further withdrawals in times of financial panic. He thought the matter might safely be left to the commission established by the recently adopted Aldrich-Vreeland act.

The room was then cleared and the committee went into executive session. The only business transacted in executive session was the appointment of a subcommittee which was decided upon at the beginning of the session and which was composed as follows: Hopkins of Illinois, chairman; Long, Kansas; Crane, Massachusetts; Kellogg, Minnesota; Payne, New York; Adams, North Carolina; Ellis, Ohio; Crawford, South Dakota; Dalsell, Pennsylvania; Clark, Wyoming; Warner, Missouri; Baillinger, Washington; Grover, Virginia.

The full committee adjourned to meet at 4 o'clock tomorrow with the understanding that at that time the subcommittee should be prepared to report. The subcommittee went into session at 9 o'clock tonight.

SPECIAL PLANKS ARE SUGGESTED

ability of adverse action, and the injunction question was postponed until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

CHICAGO, June 15.—The committee on resolutions, appointed today by the Republican convention, met in one of the parlors of the Auditorium Annex hotel at 4 p. m., and after listening for some time to the representations of numerous persons who desire to secure the insertion of special planks in the platform, appointed a subcommittee of 13 to clear all disputed questions in detail and add the finishing touches to the document. Senator A. J. Hopkins of Illinois was made chairman of the committee and Major John F. Lacey of Iowa, secretary.

Among those heard was a delegation of ladies, including Mrs. Hennrich of this city, and Miss Jane Adams of Chicago. Miss Adams argued that as women are interested in legislation for the protection of humanity in its domestic relations, they should be granted the franchise; otherwise they would be unable under present conditions to go forward with the work required of them as the mothers of the race. Mrs. Hennrich expressed confidence that the Democrats would declare for equal suffrage, said Mr. Bryan had announced his advocacy of that policy, and advised the Republicans to forestall them and make sure of the favorable influence of the women of the country by inserting a liberal plank in favor of woman suffrage.

Foreigners Represented.

A large delegation, representing Polish, Italian, Bohemian, German, Jews, and other nationalities, was heard in support of liberal immigration legislation. They announced through one of their speakers, Editor Sarnicki of this city, that they were opposed to restrictions on account of poverty. The speaker said he favored neither a financial nor an educational test, and declared that those whom he represented would judge the party by the kind of plank it might insert on this subject. He would keep out all anarchists and immoral immigrants. Henry D. Clarke of Omaha, spoke in support of inland waterways improvements, and advocated issuance of $500,000,000 worth of 2 per cent bonds for the carrying on of the work. Governor Clegg of New Mexico, Congressional Delegate Andrews of that territory, and Judge Rodey of New Mexico, addressed the committee in support of the proposition to grant single statehood to New Mexico.

Sports That Are New

ZEBES RETURNING HOME

TEAM DESERVES BETTER SUPPORT FROM SPRINGS FANS.

Was Made Splendid Record and Dickerson and Selee Have Asked Nothing but Patronage.

Colorado Springs is represented by a league baseball team of which the city may well be proud. It has never at any time been lower in the league standing than second place and up to last Saturday was tied for first place. By a ruling of the league officials two games won by the Zebes were thrown out along with one that was lost. The team is credited with winning nine games and losing three in the league race. It has won 11 and lost four.

The Trinidad team, which is leading the league, has played but one game on other than its own grounds this year and that was in Colorado Springs, resulting in victory for the Zebes. It has lost three games this year and two more to the Zebes. If Trinidad loses at Denver on Saturday, and Colorado Springs beats Cripple Creek in the game at Roswell park, the two teams will be tied for first place again as they were last week.

Yet, despite this splendid record, the city has not given the representative team anything like the support that it has deserved. The opening series were well attended and there was a showing of interest which insured crowds when Trinidad played here, had the weather permitted play. The other home games drew crowds far below what the team deserved.

Excellent Playing Field.

The playing field at Roswell park is one of the finest, if not the finest, in the state. The grandstand before the diamond is a large and comfortable one and the bleachers are nearer to the diamond and command a better point of vantage than is usually given for the bleacherites. There can be no complaint on the score of grounds or comfort of the patrons. There has been every reason why the crowds should show their appreciation of the team. If the Zebes were fighting the distance flag or were not a winning team, it would be a different matter. The team is the most talked about of any in the circuit. Its players are hard workers and a credit to the city on or off the playing field.

To look the matter square in the face Colorado Springs will have to show greater substantial appreciation of its team than it has. It would be an awful knock to the city if it should continue to show lack of appreciation of its team. Nothing is of greater advertisement to a city than a representative baseball team and particularly a winning team such as Colorado Springs has at the present time.

Ask Only Patronage.

The Colorado Springs team deserves all that the city can give it, for its owners have refused to ask anything of the town other than patronage, and has said all the time that even that will not be expected unless the team is satisfactory to the baseball fans.

It is high-class baseball beyond the question of a doubt that the Colorado Baseball association is furnishing this year. That at least three teams of the league are stronger than the Pueblo club of the Western league, cannot be disputed. The Luxus team of the State association defeated the Pueblo club by a score of 11 to 1 on the second day before the opening of the Western league season. Willett made the Western leaguers look foolish. Yet the Colorado Springs team battled Willett to all corners of the lot in a game last week and gave his team a bad beating.

There are at least three members of the Colorado Springs team who might star in the highest of baseball society. It is easily the highest salaried team in the association and shows its class in every game it plays.

Every true lover of sport in Colorado Springs, Colorado City and Manitou should turn out Saturday afternoon and welcome the team home. It has made a long trip in which it has acquired itself with great credit. It deserves a warm reception and it is the duty of every fan in the city to see that it gets one.

Saturday Is Ladies' Day.

The first ladies' day of the season is announced for Saturday, ladies being admitted free to both the park and the grandstand on that day if accompanied by an escort. This should serve to fill the stand with ladies. Opposed to this Zebes will be Jim Hanley's High Graders of Cripple Creek, a team which has won one game and lost one of a two-game series with the Zebes.

The Cripple Creek team has been strengthened to such an extent of late that Manager Hanley will back it heavily in both the Saturday and Sunday game. The Creekers promise to win at least one game of the series.

The city owes it to owners Dickerson and Selee to give their team better support than it has been receiving. They have taken every cent of the financial risk there was in getting together a high-salaried team, fitting up grounds and attending to the thousand and one things which come up in starting league baseball in a city which has not had it in several years.

Already the fans of Colorado Springs have been convinced that the State association is playing high-class baseball. Of that there is no doubt. Let every fan in or near Colorado Springs feel that it is their duty to send out at least one or more to the games Saturday and Sunday. Turn in and show Selee and Dickerson that they were not mistaken in their opinion of the city when they took the risk, confident that a live, up-to-date team would be appreciated in such an up-to-date city. It remains with the fans to show whether or not they appreciate the advantage.

BANKERS PLAY BALL TODAY

Strikes, hits and errors will occupy the attention of the clerks of the El Paso and First National banks of this city, instead of checks and drafts, on Washington field today, when the two teams will line up at 4 o'clock for the "championship" of Colorado Springs. The lineup of the First National bank has not been given out. That of the El Paso is as follows: Lee Stewart, 1b; N. Falk, 2b; Al Sprague, 3b; H. V. Balcomb, 4b; William S. Carter, 5b; Shantholter, 6b; H. Moran, 7b; H. Skinner, c.f.; John H. Kelley, r.f.; substitutes, George L. Barnard and O. L. Godfrey.

La Junta Team Makes Good Showing—Cramer, Weigert and Dow Did Slugging.

Special to The Gazette.

LA JUNTA, Colo., June 16.—In one of the greatest games ever put up in this fan-filled city, the Zebes of Colorado Springs defeated the local team today by heavy hitting in the tenth inning. Consecutive hits by Cramer, Weigert and Dow in the tenth told the story of the game, which was replete with brilliant features. Hester's batting and the batting and fielding of Weigert brought the bleachers to attention on numerous occasions. A large crowd was in attendance, and enthusiasm ran at fever heat until the end.

CRIPPLE CREEK AND GLENWOOD BATTLE 18 INNINGS.

Home Team Wins in Four-Hour Struggle Crowds Bought Tickets After a Half-Hour Inning.

Special to The Gazette.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., June 16.—What is thought to be the longest and most closely contested game in the history of baseball in Colorado was played here today, when the locals met the Cripple Creek State league team, winning the eighteenth inning by the score of 5 to 4.

Willett, the pitcher that the Zebes pounded all over the field, was in great form for the locals, holding the visitors without a hit for the ten innings following the eighth. He was given fine support. Buckles on the initial bag for Cripple Creek, stopped 23 men, and Bruce, for the home team, put out 23 at first base. The game was played in big league style throughout and aroused the greatest enthusiasm ever seen in this city.

After the tenth inning had been played the story of the game was passed about the city with the result that hundreds of persons paid admission after the twelfth inning. Tickets were purchased at the box office even after the fifteenth inning had been played. The game lasted four hours, backing but ten minutes. Local fans went wild with enthusiasm, and tonight the players are being feted by their admirers. The Cripple Creek team is also being well entertained.

Deceitful Appearances

We want to call attention to the fact that a great many people allow themselves to be deceived, or rather perhaps mistaken as to their true condition. Those who are in the early stages of tuberculosis often make rapid improvement after coming to this climate. They perhaps lose their cough, or almost all of it; they lose quite or nearly all of their expectoration; they gain flesh, and seem very well. They think they never cough or never expectorate. They feel so well that they are really mistaken as to the facts, because, perhaps, if they were questioned closely in regard to it they would remember that in the mornings they coughed a little, and have a little expectoration, and are really mistaken as to their true condition, because they feel so well. The dry, bracing air is stimulating, and as the heart is all right they feel as though they could walk to the top of Pikes Peak every day and enjoy it.

Now comes the trouble. They have business at home that demands their attention, or they have a family at home that they need to be with, or they feel as though they could not bear the expense of remaining here any longer. So they go home, and in about 90 cases out of 100 they begin to lose ground after a few months; perhaps inside of a month they see a change. They stay there just as long as they can, thinking they will be well or better next week, but after a while they have to come back here, and they cannot understand why they do not get well as fast as they did the first time, so they stay on and on, and the disease gradually develops, until finally they go home to finish up their lives.

We have never had, in our ten years' experience in this climate such an experience as this with any one who took the Shepard Treatment according to directions. Those that feel they are well and can go home just as well as not, and have by some means become acquainted with this treatment, and take it here for one or two months, can then take it home with them, continuing the treatment there for a few months, until all traces of the disease have left them. Then they are cured and well, and can remain in their homes and attend to their business as they did before they came here.

Any one visiting our office will see patients there during any time of the day, who have gone through, or are going through, the above experience. We are very glad to have people come and see patients and investigate the matter thoroughly, and if they would like, take the examination, without any cost to themselves or any inconvenience or trouble on our part, for this treatment is entirely open to any one who has tuberculosis either a cure in all of their organs where the lungs are not too seriously destroyed, or a marked improvement in those cases that have gone too far, the idea being that those who have to go home too soon can, by taking this treatment, make their going home comparatively safe.

DR. W. A. JEFFERS

WHAT IS MORE BEAUTIFUL THAN MOTHER LOVE?

A mother's worries are many. She sometimes forgets her own bodily discomforts because of her overpowering love for the child. She becomes broken down, sleepless, nervous, irritable and feeble from nursing until night. Many mothers of experience can tell you that at such a time they have been relieved, benefited and strengthened and put into proper health by taking a prescription which their mothers had told them was the only woman's tonic to be taken at such times. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has enjoyed an enviable reputation for over a third of a century. In all that time it has sold more largely in the United States than any other tonic for women's needs, and today its sales are greater than ever.

In favor of Dr. Pierce's medicine is the frank, confident, open, honest statement of the full competition, giving every ingredient in plain English, without fear of successful criticism and with confidence that the good sense of the afflicted will lead them to appreciate this honorable manner of confiding to them what they are taking into their stomachs when making use of these medicines.

ALCOHOLIC TONICS

A great many women feeling the need of a tonic take a cocktail, whiskey, or what is just as bad, some widely advertised compound containing a large percentage of alcohol. Doctor Pierce's medicine is guaranteed to be entirely free from alcohol or narcotics—made of roots which cannot harm the most delicate system but have a wholesome, life-giving, tonic effect upon the system. Tonic made largely of alcohol interferes with the digestion of certain foods, and redness increases the alcohol absorbed gets into the blood and shrinks the red blood corpuscles. As the blood feeds the nerves, the nerves get improper nourishment and the mother becomes nervous. As the nerves suffer so does the skin.

Better stick to a health-giving tonic that has in it just what a third of a century sold more widely than any other.

OPEN AS THE DAY

What Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is made of. Its ingredients are Golden Seal root, Lady's Slipper root, Black Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Blue Cohosh root, Chemically Pure Glycyrrhine, Horvath's Kalm, M. D., University of Pa., says of Golden Seal—"Good in all catarrhal conditions, as uterine catarrh, leucorrhoea, etc." Prof. John King in the American Dispensary says of Blue Cohosh root—"another important ingredient in 'Favorite Prescription.' 'By its special affinity for the female organs, it is an efficient agent in suppression, in dysmenorrhoea, it is surpassed by no other drug, being of greatest utility in irritative and congestive conditions of the appendages, characterized by dragging pains, etc.'"

Prof. King says of Unicorn root, "have found this plant to possess a decidedly beneficial influence in cases of chronic weakness or dull pain in the renal or lumbosacral (small of the back) region. It is one of our most valuable agents, acting as a uterine tonic, and in removing abnormal conditions, while at the same time it imparts tone and vigor to the reproductive organs. Hence, it is much used in leucorrhoea, amenorrhoea, dysmenorrhoea."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, constipation, or irritation of the bowels, loss of appetite, coated tongue, sour stomach, windy belchings, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

Persons subjected to any of these troubles should never be without a vial of the "Pleasant Pellets" at hand. In proof of their superior excellence it can truthfully be said that they are always adopted as a household remedy after the first trial.

One little "Pellet" is a laxative, two are cathartic. They regulate, invigorate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels. As a "dinner guest" they promote digestion, take one each day. To relieve the distress arising from overeating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets." They are their small-coated, and sugar-granules, scarcely larger than mustard seeds.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper bound, for 10 cent stamp, or cloth-bound for 25 stamps. Over 100 pages and illustrated. Address: Dr. B. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

OPENING SESSION IS QUIET AFFAIR

The long lines of spectators, in rising tiers and in solid masses of men and women, the latter in gay-hued summer gowns and with fluttering fans and waving handkerchiefs. Higher up, and of the vast inclosure. Above this evening moving kaleidoscope scene, bent the huge semicircular roof, its steel girders and girders making the entire circuit, lined with bunting and ablaze with electric devices, while on every side the national colors were woven into banners, shields and patriotic symbols. In front of the delegates stretched the mammoth platform, 227 feet square, and accommodating 1,500 distinguished guests, including ambassadors and ministers from foreign states. Besides the officials of the convention and members of the national committee.

Giants of the Party.

The moments before the gavel fell gave the opportunity to inspect the personnel of delegates and leaders. Grouped in front of the New York delegation were Seth Low and General Stewart L. Woodford the supporters of Hughes, and further back Senator Chauncey M. Depue, ex-Governor David S. Payne, chairman of the ways and means committee, and ex-Lieutenant Governor Timothy L. Woodruff. Flanking them were the Knox forces, Governor Stuart of Pennsylvania at the front with Senator Boies Penrose and Representatives Dalzell and Burke of Pittsburgh, the personal representatives of Mr. Knox. In the van of the Ohio contingent sat Governor Harris beside J. Warren Keller and Wade Ellis, the latter the draftsman of the new platform. Representative Theodore E. Burton, who is to put Taft in nomination, and the three close lieutenants of Taft—ex-Governor Herrick, A. I. Vorys and Charles P. Taft. Just back of them were Senators Lodge and Cram, surrounded by the Massachusetts pliancy: to the right, Senators Culberson and Hopkins, Governor Denney of Illinois, Mayor Busse of Chicago and the Cannon forces, and to the left Senators Beveridge and Hemenway, Governor Hanly, George Ade and the Fairbanks forces. It was a true gathering of the giants of the party and every group had its figure conspicuous in national affairs.

"Taft, Taft," Is Shouted.

Just at the opening hour the delegation swung down the middle aisle toward the front. In their midst was the portrait of Ohio's candidate, "Taft, Taft," went up from a thousand throats as the well-known face of the secretary candidate was borne to the front. Cheer after cheer rolled from floor to gallery and back again, and for a time Chairman New was unable to proceed with the opening formalities. Again Wisconsin stirred the echoes with a real college yell which sounded through the building and exploded with a final "rah, rah, rah, Wisconsin," closing it all with the cry of "La Follette!"

It was not until 12:15 that Chairman New stilled the tumult and with brief Comity introduced the temporary presiding officer to the convention, Senator Burrows of Michigan. The venerable senator, white-haired, white-tied, white-vested, speckled and dignified in his long black coat, stepped forward with a courteous smile of greeting, and slowly the buzz of conversation died away and he began to speak. His first words were audible barely five feet away. Gradually he was borne to his subject as he told of the glories of the party he had served so long, and the well-rounded sentences carried to the remotest corners, hammered in here and there by an expressive gesture. But it was not a speech calculated to set the blood tingling. It dealt with the party's record and achievements.

Not until the senator made the first mention of "Roosevelt" did the delegates begin to start the assembly, as by a magic thrill. Instantly the speech was drowned in a great shout which went up from every side, as delegates sprang to their feet and waved their hats, echoing back the tumult of the galleries, where fluttering handkerchiefs, fans and parasols broke into moving color and the whole assemblage joined in a vociferous demonstration. For a moment it seemed as though one of those record-breaking upsurges of the days of Hiale and McKinley would sweep the convention from its moorings. But the first outburst spent itself within a minute; gradually it subsided, until calm came again and some of the speakers proceeded with the record of the party's achievements. Every succeeding mention of the President's name brought another wave of enthusiastic tribute.

The names of Taft and Root also sent the cheers ringing from gallery to gallery. But those whirlwinds of noisy demonstration which have fairly carried some conventions off their feet did not occur. Aside from the names of popular idols, the speaker's words awakened a stir of enthusiasm for the navy, the man behind the gun, the continued occupation of the Philippines and a tariff revision which would give "just and adequate protection to American industry."

These policies appeared to appeal strongly to the assemblage, but the greatest enthusiasm on a question of policy came when he delivered his fervid, apostrophic to the American judiciary as the great conservative bulwark of the country.

The formal proceedings of the convention gave the spectators an opportunity to see the leading figures of the convention—Serenio Payne, who moved that the rules of the last convention prevail until the new rules be presented; Senator Long of Kansas, who presented the customary resolution for the appointment of committees on resolution, credentials, permanent organization and rules and order of business; and Senator Lodge, who cut short the monotonous droning of names of committees by having the lists turned in to the secretary without reading.

There was but one hitch and that momentary, when Senator Burrows announced that Louisiana had presented two distinct sets of officers for its state delegation. He speedily explained that this difficulty had been adjusted by an agreement whereby no member from Louisiana would be represented on any of the committees of the convention. Congressman Burke of Pittsburg, took early occasion to get before the committee on resolutions the plan to reduce the representation at future national conventions. It was accepted without delay, and at 3 o'clock when the last formalities were accepted and the strains of stirring national anthem broke forth as the convention adjourned and the multitudes dispersed. Tonight the work of the committees is proceeding, while hotel corridors continue to be the scene of heated discussion over the vice presidency and platform. The permanent organization of the convention has been fully outlined by the committee in charge of the work, with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts as permanent chairman. The duties of the committees on credentials and on resolutions have been marked by greater difficulty and the reports which come from their deliberations indicate sharp contention before the final details of credentials and platform are effected.

PATHETIC ROMANCE OF AN EMPRESS

How many people are aware that the marriage of the Empress Marie Feodorovna of Russia, the czar's mother, who is at present in England, visiting her sister, Queen Alexandra, and who hopes to make her home in England, provided one of the most pathetic love stories in the annals of royalty?

Before the empress, who was Princess Dagmar of Denmark, married Alexander III, she was engaged to his elder brother, the czarowitz. In 1865 at Nice the Grand Duke Nicholas fell from his horse and was so badly injured that his life was despaired of. His fiancée hastened to him and never left his side until he breathed his last. The succession to the throne devolved on the Grand Duke Alexander.

He stood by the death bed of the czarowitz, who in the presence of the emperor and empress placed the hand of the weeping princess into his, saying to her with almost his last words: "Marry my brother; he is true as crystal, and I wish it."

Enforced by political reasons this request was law to the betrothed girl.

CROSSING THE EQUATOR

Imagine three men crossing the line that equates the fun. I do not know how many old salts are with the fleet, but there must be a vast majority of young, green sailors, and won't they get it! Maybe they have already had it. The equator is about 60 miles from Trinidad, and the battle rages as the "line" is approached, and the greenies crane their necks and stretch their backs to see if the line is the real thing. Probably 10,000 men will be shaved with a wooden razor and be shampooed with swabbing brushes. Bob Evans is a man of the world. He believes in having a good time, and late officers and crews will get all their shuffling to do. WHEN THAT (ALL) comes.

It was believed half a century ago that crossing the equator meant "hell or hell's delivery," as an old salt expressed it. Men were keel-hauled. Even the captain was required to take off his shirt, and all the lesser officers had to do stunts. It was like catching a judge off the bench and making him look like a wren. Disbelief was for-

BY BRIDE'S FIRST BLEW

From the Philadelphia Record.
The first beef stew cooked for him by his bride of two weeks killed Fred C. Remmonds, a shot dealer. The couple returned Sunday from their honeymoon trip and started housekeeping. This noon Mrs. Remmonds had a succulent beef stew for lunch. Like a fond husband, Remmonds congratulated his wife on it and ate a lot.

How it happened, the half-crazed bride doesn't know, but somehow a piece of meat got caught in Remmonds' throat, and while she was screaming for aid, he died. The physician who finally came said death was caused by suffocation. The bride is prostrated.

AN OLD DREAM COMES TRUE

From the Indianapolis News.
Albert Shirely, night watchman at the Keller chair factory, had a dream fulfilled Saturday night when the calf of his leg was pierced by a rifle ball. Twenty years ago Shirely dreamed he would be wounded by being shot. The dream worried him for some time, and he never forgot it. Albert Landis, an acquaintance, went to the factory Saturday night to shoot rats. The 22-caliber target rifle Landis was handling was accidentally discharged, and the ball passed through Shirely's leg. The loss of much blood resulted, but Shirely will recover. He is very positive the accident was the fulfillment of his dream of twenty years ago.

Why Overheat Yourself?

Much of your summer pleasure depends upon having a cool and comfortable kitchen. Why not be prepared for hot days before they come? Ask your dealer to show the New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove. It's a wonder. Does the work of your big range in every particular, but has this great advantage over it, that it never heats the kitchen. The makes summer days endurable. Think of preparing a meal in less time than you'd do it on the coal range, and then sitting down at table with the family not overheated, but entirely comfortable.

That is the way you will do when you have a "New Perfection Oil" Cook-Stove in your kitchen. Made in three sizes; fully warranted. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

The Kroyd Lamp is a 100 draft lamp of great illuminating power. Large font holds oil for several hours' burning. Free from all objectionable features—a splendid lamp. If not with your dealer, write our nearest agency.

PIERCE AND ROSLYN
AT THE EMPIRE

Pierce and Roslyn, the operatic comedians, are creating quite a little sensation at the Empire this week. Their Indian song "Fandora" in costumes is one of the big hits and one in which they certainly look the part. Mr. J. Edward Pierce is an eighth blood Cherokee, born and reared in a cowboy in Arizona. Mr. Pierce's father, a ranchman of that country, often made trips across what is now the Oklahoma and Indian Territory country, driving his outfit to market. On one of these trips he met a beautiful quarter-breed Cherokee maiden and

COWBOY SPORTS AND PASTIMES

The managers of the new Electric theater have secured for today and tomorrow "Cowboy Sports and Pastimes," a novel and exciting picture that has never been shown in this city. The cowboys are seen out on the plains shortly afterwards married her. The son became one of the most noted riders in that section.

During one of his trips into the wilds of Arizona, Mr. Owen Wister, author of the "Virginian," engaged the young cowboy as a guide. They spent several weeks together and Mr. Wister, discovering that Pierce had a remarkable voice, prevailed upon him to leave the ranch and have it trained. The result is, Pierce has become one of the most prominent baritone of the country, having a voice of exceptional volume and richness.

The singing act of Mr. Pierce and Miss Roslyn is alone worth the price of admission at the Empire. The entire show is one of great merit, and undoubtedly the best that has ever been seen in this city.

NEW PICTURES AT THE CRYSTAL

Manager Lent has secured an unusually good program for today and tomorrow. "The Dynamite Duel" is an exceedingly entertaining film and one that keeps the audience wondering what to look for next. The duel is caused by a young fellow forcing his attentions on a lady seated at a cafe table, who reacts and asks a friend of hers to throw him. They decide to fight it out with light foils, but after running each other through with no bad results, they resort to more strenuous measures and end up by strapping a stick of dynamite to their backs and trying to light the fuses. After a long struggle each succeeds in lighting the other's fuse, and they are blown sky high. The different pieces of their bodies fall in town, and when they are pieced together by their friends they find themselves none the worse for their fight and flight through the air. Finally realizing that they can not kill one another, they make friends and have a grand celebration. "A Tireless Play" is extremely ludicrous and is sure to please. The "Younger Brothers" will be found most entertaining. Mr. Jack Begley will sing the new illustrated song, "Don't Cry, Katie, Dear."

MONTE CRISTO AT FAIRYLAND

Manager Braden will present another feature subject today that has been made famous by James O'Neill, the great melodramatic actor. This is none other but the great drama of "Monte Cristo." The film is over 1,000 feet long and gives in detail the course of the great play. The opening shows Edmund Dantes in prison an aged, decrepit man, then the great revolt by prisoners and burghers. The transformation of Edmund Dantes to the count is a wealthy aristocrat. He searches out his political betrayers and one after another, engages them in sword duel and dispatches them. The pictures are in their entirety and are very thrilling and correct in detail. Other pictures are: "Slavery of Children" a very funny subject entitled "His First Ride." Mr. Van will give a detailed lecture on Monte Cristo. Don't fail to see this splendid program. Every lady will receive a souvenir this afternoon.

all banished together arranging for the games. When all the details have been arranged they begin. First, they ride at full speed and, leading from the saddle, pick up several handkerchiefs from the ground. Then they have rope twirling, peg pulling and other contests. The most exciting scene is the "broncho busting." After the horse is roped he struggles madly, but at last the boys succeed in saddling him, and then one mounts and the struggle to unseat him begins. The horse tries running, bucking and all the tricks he knows, but all to no purpose. The pony express and relay race are very exciting and show some daring feats of horsemanship. The pictures are so lifelike that you imagine you are present and witness the actual contests. The film is over 1,000 feet long and every bit of it is thrilling and full of action. There are also two very amusing French comedy films, "Beg Pardon" and "Why Was I Born With Feet?" Mr. Jaffe, who made such a hit singing "Perhaps," will sing the new illustrated ballad, "A Dream." All lovers of music must be sure to hear him, as he has a remarkably fine tenor voice, and the song is well suited to it. The opera chairs have at last arrived and Manager Schluster promises to have them in place in time for this afternoon's show. The theater now has a seating capacity of about 200 and is complete in every detail. The machine used is of the latest and most expensive design, projecting pictures sharp and clear and absolutely free from flicker.

YOUR BABY

and those Arnold goods

Special care should be taken in selecting garments for your baby.
Their delicate skin should not come in contact with garments that IRRITATE and are not ABSORBENT. Nature has provided millions of little holes in the skin, and from these is constantly passing off the impurities of the body in the form of perspiration.

The fabric used in making the "Arnold" Goods is treated by a special process so that it is VERY SOFT and HIGHLY ABSORBENT, therefore being nonirritating, and TAKES UP the excretions, keeping the pores open and in a perfect healthy condition, allowing the tissues of the body to receive or "breathe" air that does not otherwise reach these parts.

The "Arnold" Goods consist of thirty specialties made from patterns designed for health and comfort.

The "Arnold" Knit Diapers

Elastic and yielding, very absorbent, washes easily. This garment is so shaped that it fits the body snugly at the waist and is large, roomy and baggy at the seat, where irritations, eruptions and inflamma-tions generally exist. The fabric is very soft and fine, making this a common-sense diaper. The "Arnold" inside squares are used with these. Sizes 18, 20, 22 and 24 square inches.

The "Arnold" Knit Bath Aprons

When preparing baby's bath, tie this apron around you, and after washing, wrap the infant in the apron and you'll be pleased with the way the garment absorbs every atom of moisture, leaving baby's skin soft, cool, sweet and dry. This apron can be used also as a carriage or cradle quilt.

It is made of closely knitted cotton, with heavy, long and downy fleece. Exceptional care has been taken to render it highly absorbent, and it is absolutely nonshrinkable. The edges are neatly bound and daintily finished.
Price, $1.25.

We carry a complete line of the celebrated Arnold knit goods, in infant's department, 2nd floor
